EVERYBODY WILL BE living it up Wednesday night as they bring in a new 1959. This includes Chris, 10-year-old registered German Shepherd dog owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Shepard, 415 Hardin St., Antioch. Chris will join the hundreds of other lakes area residents in lounges, clubs and private homes to usher in the Happy New Year.

Highway Caution Urged

Area Expects 'Quiet' Entry into New Year

New Year celebrants are expected to usher in 1959 as quietly as possible in this area. Parties at clubs, taverns and private homes are the only events planned.

However on the highways there will be much activity as the state police put into effect the second phase of Condition Red. Extra troopers will be on the highways beginning 6 p. m. Wednesday evening. The New Year alert will continue through Jan. 4.

Yule Shoppers Cautious Here

Christmas shoppers in Antioch and immediate area were very cautious this year in their purchases causing most merchants to have a mediocre year in sales.

A consensus of merchants showed that about as many shoppers were in the business houses as usual but they were spending less.

One merchant said that people were buying the cheaper of two similar type items and tended to buy plastic toys in favor of metal ones.

In soft goods lines, sales in women's items was about the same but sales in men's items was down.

As is the custom in Antioch, the major portion of the sales are in the latter part of the month with a big last-minute rush, merchants said.

troimen will be out in force also in an effort to save drivers from themselves.

Law enforcement officers in this part of the state have had praises for the conduct of drivers in the area who have kept the death toll relatively low in the last quarter of the year. However, they urged caution so that the new year will begin as safe as the old year bowed out.

Weather conditions for the 102-hour holiday period should be excellent for driving with most all snow gone and no new snowfall expected.

Holiday Sets New Record at Post Office

Only a few catalogs and tax forms now in the mails help bring daily cancellations to between 3 and 4,000—a far range from the 29,000 high reached during the Christmas mailing season at the Antioch Post Office.

The local office marked 220,000 cancellations in the 12-day period preceding Christmas for 18,000 daily average, says Roy Kufalk, postmaster.

A new all-time high was reached in stamp sales during the three weeks before Christmas, Kufalk said. His office sold 120,000 three-cent stamps and 140,000 four-cent stamps during the period.

Tax Valuation Protests Over 1000 in Lake Villa Township

Town Adds 29 Homes During Year

Construction in Antioch town limits during 1958 totaled $888,863, about the same as last year, figures from Clarence Shultis, village clerk, show.

Bright spot was the construction of 29 new homes in the village during the year for $376,950 total. Average new home cost was $12,998.

GREATEST MONTH for construction was September when $110,200 in building permits were issued. This included eight new single dwelling houses and an industrial building.

The least building activity was shown in February when only $2,600 in permits was issued to alter or make additions to two homes.

ONLY A SINGLE building permit was issued in December, that for $91,130 for remodeling of the State Bank of Antioch.

Other figures show that there were 21 new garages built in the village, a new medical clinic for $32,500, a gas station for $22,000 besides the industrial building.

Figures for construction outside the village in Antioch township and for Lake Villa township are not completed yet.

Burned Baby, Car Accident on Rescue Calls

It was a busy week-end for the Antioch Rescue Squad with two major calls Sunday and Monday.

Sunday night a car driven by Richard Kufalk, 17, 620 Parkway, hit a spot of ice on North Ave., about one half mile west of Main St. The driver and his passenger, Michael Mortensen, 16, were treated at the new Antioch clinic and released. The car was demolished after it came to rest after shearing a utility pole.

Monday morning Gregory Break, 8-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Break of Felter's Subdivision received third degree burns in the family house when an older child is reported to have tipped a pan of hot liquid on the boy.

The rescue squad took him to St. Theresa Hospital in Waukegan, reports Everett Oftedahl, lieutenant of the squad.

"An elementary school teacher gave her small charges a lecture on the merits of brevity and then asked them to write a sentence or two describing something exciting. One of them promptly submitted the following: 'Help, Help!'"—Ramsey News-Journal.

Organized Drive Nets One of Largest Number of Complaints Ever Recorded

If county officials were "surprised" to see the 740 tax valuation protests from Venetian Village, just wait until they receive almost 200 more from Fox Lake Hills next Saturday.

In all, over 1,000 Lake Villa Township residents will have lodged official protests with the County Board of Review over the quadrennial tax evaluations for 1958. Published Dec. 18 in the Antioch News, the list has created more protests over taxes in the courthouse than ever before.

THE FUROR caused by organized signing of protest forms has:

1. Caused official postponing of protest date from last Monday to Saturday, Jan. 3;
2. Caused the county to run completely out of protest forms and another 5,000 to be printed;
3. Caused more people to take an interest in their taxes and the procedure citizens usually take.

Robert Jasper, supervisor of assessor, said that the protests probably would not be in vain. The Board of Review, of which he is

Protest Deadline Set Back to Saturday

Last chance for taxpayers in Lake Villa Township to sign official protests will be Tuesday and Friday nights from 6 to 9 p. m. in the Community Beach House in Fox Lake Hills.

There the subdivision's Civic association will hold its last aid to unhappy taxpayers clinic with proper forms and legal counsel on hand.

Already more than 150 have signed protests from this new housing area. If any others are planning complaints over tax evaluations, they must do so by Friday evening. Saturday, Jan. 3 is final day for complaints. This date is an extension by the County Board of Review in view of the holidays and the large number of protests already lodged with it. The Board will review each one.

Mail to Leave Sooner, Beginning Jan. 6

New mail schedules are tentatively planned for the Antioch Post Office beginning Jan. 6 when the new train runs begin on the Soo Line here says Postmaster Roy Kufalk.

A new trucking schedule will have mail leaving the local office at 8:15 p. m. each day instead of the 7:06 time now in effect.

'Next Move' Meet In Lindenhurst, 300 File Protests

Having filed 300 tax protests, the Lindenhurst Citizens Party is planning a meeting soon to explain next moves to residents.

The meeting, to be held as a big party rally in the early part of January, will also serve as the nominating convention to choose candidates for the three trustee posts and village clerk position which will become vacant in April.

Douglas Sanders, chairman of the citizens part, said that the tax equalizer factor represents "an unreasonably high and unfair" burden to the taxpayers of Lindenhurst. The 300 protests signed and presented to the County Board of Review represents more than half the property owners in the village.

James Polk was the only speaker of the House of Representatives to become president. According to research experts with The World Book Encyclopedia, Polk ran against Henry Clay in 1844. It was the only campaign in which both candidates were former speakers.

Santa, Deer Scene Wins Yule Decorating Contest

Already making plans for next year's Christmas house decoration is Jerry Van Patten, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurel Van Patten, 515 Naber St., and winner of this year's contest sponsored by the Moose Lodge of Antioch.

For those who wish to see the winning display, it will be up for at least another week, Mrs. Van Patten said. Plans are to take the figures down about Jan. 4.

THIS YEAR'S grand prize in the decorating was a Santa Claus and five reindeer figure preparing to enter the Van Patten home. Also at the front entrance was a trio of carolers. The entire front of the house was lighted with spots and colored lights.

Winning the contest this year was a climax of three years' effort by Van Patten, his mother said. He has won honorable mention in the two preceding contests with Christmas figures he designed and built in his home workshop.

Taking second place in the contest was the brilliantly colored front of the residence of Mrs. Stephanie Bichel on the north shore of Loon Lake. The house, visible from Rt. 21, was a display of colored lights with various cutout figures on the front lawn.

THIRD PLACE went to Mr. and Mrs. Steve Ryzko, Jr., 40 Second Ave. Their display was of Santa Claus stepping out of his sleigh being pulled by eight reindeer.

The three top winners won hand-painted plates as donations of the Moose Lodge. Three honorable mention prizes also were awarded to:

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Lulich, Silver Lake Ave.; Mr. and Mrs. John Effinger, Hardin St.; and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sterbenz, Jr., 920 David St.

ALL RESIDENTS in the village of Antioch were judged automatically and residents in the township who decorated notified the Moose Lodge of their desire to be judged.

The number of people who decorated this year was less than last year, the Moose committee said. They attribute the decline of extreme cold weather before Christmas which made it difficult to put decorations in place.

Judges this year were Mayor Merrill Cunningham, Mrs. Irving Elms of the Antioch Woman's Club and Preston Reckers of the Lions Club. The latter two judges were substitutes for the previously announced members of the two civic organizations.

Predict Near-Perfect Weather For Area's World Ice Boat Races

Host Club, Early Arrivals to Test Course, Tricky Winds on Thursday

If weather conditions come out as predicted, ice boaters may set a new world's record at the International Ice Boat Races on Fox Lake next week.

That's the prediction of George R. Bell, Glenview, publicity chairman of the host Fox Lake Ice Yacht Club, as he viewed the weatherman's predictions of mid-20 degree temperatures. The races will be held Jan. 9-11 near Mineola Bay on Fox Lake.

The best ice is that which thaws just enough for a film of water at the end of the day, then freezes at night, he explained. A freeze like Monday night is just perfect, Bell said.

ALTHOUGH ICE boat racing is not a good spectator sport unless fans can crowd the finish line, Bell expects a good assemblage to fill the area around the Waltonian Hotel from New Year's Day to the end of the races. Beginning Jan. 1, members of the host club and racers from Lake Geneva and Pewaukee will be on the ice to test the course. Spectators can come out to watch, he said.

All the practice a boater can get in on the six-mile course will be valuable for there are some tricky winds at the point.

The full entry list is not in as yet, Bell said, but he added that boats have been entered from New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Michigan, and Wisconsin. Ed Rollberg in his Black Magic will be a participant from the host club. Rollberg, of Chicago, is the 1949 world's champion. Bell said that at least six of 15 members of the local club will race.

WHILE THE HOST club is hoping for continued freezing weather to keep the ice in shape, members are also hoping for no snow. "Snow makes the worst ice," Bell said. "It gets crusty and sticky."

Although the ice at eight inches is thick enough now, continued thawing could make it dangerous for racers. The danger point is less than three inches, Bell said. If such a thing happened, the meet would be postponed for a week.

But with things moving along at a fast clip and weather conditions predicted to be near perfect, the host club is hopeful for a new world record being set. At present 143 miles per hour is tops and 60 mph average.

New Feature Begins On Editorial Page

A new feature begins today in the Antioch News.

It's a Guest Editorial column on the regular page of opinion of the News. Bernard Osmond, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Antioch, launches the first column with a question about Antioch's town limits.

HERE'S THE WINNER in the local Christmas decorating contest. It's the scene of Santa and some reindeer along with some Christmas carolers on the lawn of the Laurel VanPatten home, 415 Naber St., Antioch. A lighted Merry Christmas and Happy New Year also greet neighbors and viewers.

DEAR READER News EditorialsMark of A Town That Has Reached Its Goal

The town that has arrived. We have reached our goal. No boosters needed here. We are no up-and-coming city. We have already reached the utmost pinnacle of our vaulting ambition. Nothing more to seek for. Now we can sit back, rest with our laurels enjoy life and in the words of a popular song, "let the rest of the world go by."

"Go by," is right. Again, to quote from that popular song, "It's a place that's known to God alone." We have every public improvement our village could wish for. Our merchants and their stocks are so well known that they don't need to advertise. You can buy cheaply, very cheaply, here, because the cost of advertising is not added to the cost of the goods. As a business man in our town told us, "I have run this place for fifteen years and one of my family thirty-five years and I don't need to advertise!"

So in this town when we need anything we run our fingers through our hair and say: "Well, now, let's see, Joe, he's been here only two years; Jim, that's Sara's boy, he's been here twenty years; Dick though, he's been here nigh onto forty years. Still, come to think of it, Methuselah Oldfield's been here fifteen years before that. I need a cake of soap. He sold my father a cake once: I'll take a piece of it to him; he may have another cake I can dicker for."

That's the way we do it. Why advertise and bring enterprise and strife and sighs? We are happy and contented. Don't rouse us. We live in "a place that's known to God alone." "Let the rest of the world go by."

By the editor who is satiated with living in a satisfied town. Note, the editor said in the line above that he is satiated, not satisfied. "A PLACE THAT'S KNOWN TO GOD ALONE."

Time flies... but some situations go on forever. Even if you don't agree with the editorial printed above, in its entirety from the Dec. 31, 1925 edition of the Antioch News, you'll have to agree that its got some fine points still.

Guest Editorial

It is a pleasure to inaugurate this new series in The Antioch News. This is but one of many new innovations by the publishers aimed at making the News more enjoyable to its readers and I, for one, say "Well done."

Someone once said, "You can't stand still, you must either move ahead or fall behind." I believe this is especially true in the case of the Village of Antioch. With the exception of Oakwood Knolls, Antioch Village limits have not increased in over twenty-five years. There is no reason for its present limits either economic or geographic. In most cases, they follow farmers' fence lines. The land lying outside of the Village comes under the direct control of the myriad of county commissions, e.g., health, zoning, highways, planning, etc. An individual loses personal contact when dealing in county matters.

Wouldn't it be advantageous for the people as well as the Village to reconsider the limits and study the advantages of expanding the Village now before it is too late? To the North to the State Line, to the South to Beachgrove Road (perhaps Loon Lake Corners), to the West to Tiffany Road, and to the East to Deep Lake Road. Geographically, these limits make more sense than farmers' fence lines.

Why not form a study committee with representatives from the various areas involved?

Many Continue Working After 65th Birthday

NEW YORK—Large numbers of people in our country continue in gainful employment beyond their 65th birthday, a recent survey notes.

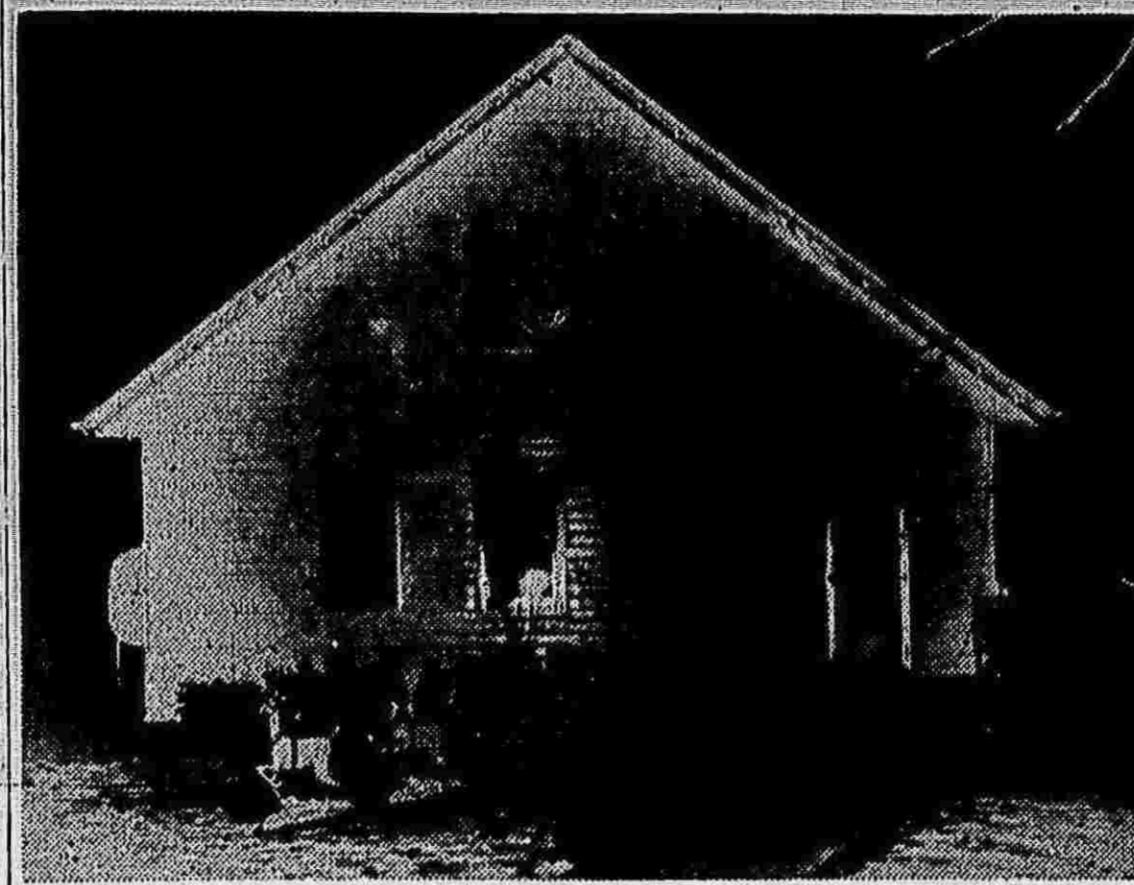

According to estimates by the Bureau of the Census, in March of last year more than half of the male population in the age group 65-69 was still in the labor force; even at ages 70-74, the proportion was practically two fifths, but at ages 75 and over it was only one sixth. The proportion of women in the labor force at the older ages is much lower.

Farm workers show a greater tendency to work beyond age 65 than do those in non-agriculture industries.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Once again the Christmas season is here. For many residents of Illinois, this joyful season means a motor trip for a visit to relatives and friends.

If you are one of those who will be taking to the highway during the holiday period, be most alert when behind the steering wheel. The added vehicles which will be on the roads present added hazards for the motorist. This is the holiday on which we usually suffer the most highway fatalities.

One Jekyll-and-Hyde type of driver you may expect to encounter is the motorist who normally heeds all speed limit signs, but when on the open highway for a long trip completely disregards them in an attempt to "save" time. Any time he "saves" will be infinitesimal in value as compared to the risk he is taking with his life and the lives of others on the road.

This driver will also weave in and out of traffic as he "hurries" to his destination, utterly neglecting his duty to himself and others.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

DEAR EDITOR Your LettersTaxi Prices Seen as 'Abuse'

I like good competition. I dislike it when concerns in an oligopolistic economic status abuse a public in which I share a role. As I see it, this is the situation that exists with regard to the taxicab companies in our area.

Not long ago I took a cab from Fox Lake to Antioch because I was stranded late at night. The ride to Antioch cost me four dollars, or 25c per mile. I understand this is the standard fee. Being aroused, I talked with several other people about this fee problem. I was told that on one occasion a lady who lives just four miles east of Antioch dumped $2.50 into the hand of a taxi driver for that haul. Now, I understand, the price has gone up to $3 for the same trip. That is more than 37c per mile. I also understand that Antioch school children pay 50c when they take a taxi to school. And it doesn't matter if the taxi hauls one child or a half dozen. The price for each is the same.

If taxicab companies must charge such fees as indicated above to cover costs, replacements and make a "normal profit" there is something wrong. Or perhaps there is nothing wrong with such a situation. After all, the taxicab firms seem to be following a peaceful coexistence.

There is control when there is competition, but in our area there is evidently little or no price competition between taxi firms as far as I can see. They all get their "share" and you and I pay right through the nose.

Got Stamina? Let's Have Many New Year's Parties

With a little imagination—and a lot of stamina—you can ring in the New Year with more than one celebration. In fact, you can keep on celebrating all through the year, just by switching calendars.

The World Book Encyclopedia says most of the Christian world wipes the slate clean on Jan. 1.

BUT BY TRADING in the Gregorian calendar for the Julian calendar, you can have another New Year's party on Jan. 14.

Take a few months to recover, and you can join the Iranian celebration on March 21. If that doesn't wear you out, you can turn over a new leaf in autumn, when the Jews welcome the New Year.

If you want to cut down on travel time, you can confine your party-hopping to India. The Hindus are divided into many different religious groups, and each group marks the beginning of the year on a different date.

Lake County Third In Saving Bond Sales

Lake County residents purchased a total of $445,018, in Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in November, according to a report received from the Savings Bonds Division of the U. S. Treasury. The amount was third highest in the state.

Illinois sales of both series totaled $28,142,491, which is 2.4% below sales for November 1957, according to T. Merle Paul, State Director of the United States Savings Bonds Division.

Illinois sales for the month represent 8.7% of national sales which were $324,491,000. In the first eleven months of 1958, 94.9% of the state's annual quota of $430,400,000 has been reached.

Meringue Spice Cake For Something New for Holiday

Need an unusual dessert treat for that last holiday party? Mrs. Charles Wysoglad has the answer to your problem. Mrs. Wysoglad, 163 Fifth Ave., Antioch, sends her favorite recipe for

BAKED MERINGUE SPICE CAKE

2 cups sifted cake flour
3 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. cloves
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg - 1 egg yolk
1/4 cup milk

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and spices together 3 times. Cream shortening with sugar until fluffy. Add beaten egg and egg yolk and beat thoroughly. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk in small amounts, beating after each addition. Pour into greased cake pan and spread with meringue.

1 egg white, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/4 cup nuts. Beat egg white until stiff but not dry. Beat in brown sugar. Spread over cake batter, sprinkle with nuts and bake for 30 to 60 minutes at 350 degrees.

Result, a tantalizing dessert treat for any occasion.

Lady Legionnaires Mark '58 With Support of Veterans' Rehabilitation

Members of the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary are ending a good 1958 and looking to an even better 1959 by contributing to and working on eight projects for rehabilitation of veterans, reports Mrs. Dorothy Horan, rehabilitation chairman of Antioch Unit 748. Each program is sponsored by the Illinois department of the Legion.

Insulin Fund—a fund made available to diabetic veterans who have been dismissed from the hospitals but are unable to pay for the needed medication.

Vaponefrin Fund—similar to the insulin fund, provides medication to the veteran suffering from asthma who cannot afford to purchase the prescribed medication.

TREASURE CHEST Funds—allows cigarettes, creature comforts, candy or fruit to all hospitalized veterans in Illinois.

Canteen Books—a fund that provides the veteran patient who has no income of his own with a means to purchase some of the items he needs and also gives him the satisfaction of selecting his own purchases.

Hospitality Funds—assures all the hospitals of monthly entertainment, furnishing greeting cards, stamps, matches, magazines, and many other items.

Downey Nursery—provides care and entertainment, including the serving of milk and cookies to children of veterans while other relatives and friends visit the veteran who is confined to the hospital.

EASTER GIFTS—allows the hospitalized veteran a special gift at Easter time or a Canteen Book. These programs are some of the many Rehabilitation programs being supported by the donations of the Units throughout the state.

Veterans' Craft Exchange—A sale of Veterans' Craft Exchange items is sponsored by nearly all Units in Illinois. The Veterans' Craft Exchange, a non-profit shop, is located at 30 W. Washington St., 7th floor, Chicago, and is the only such shop in the National Organization. Articles to be sold are sent to this shop from disabled veterans throughout the nation.

The shop plays a major part in the rehabilitation of the veteran, as it gives him an opportunity to make use of his talents, in return he receives the entire purchase price of the article that has been sold.

The American Legion Auxiliary assumes the shipping and handling charges, plus the overhead of the Exchange.

Christmas Party Well Attended
The Christmas party held by the Antioch Unit, American Legion Auxiliary members and their husbands was well attended. A potluck supper was served at 7 o'clock, after which several games of cards were played. Mrs. Santa Claus visited the party and handed out gifts to everyone present.

Next Regular Meeting
The next regular meeting of Antioch Unit will be held on Friday, Jan. 9 at 8 p. m. in the Legion Home. Much business is on the agenda, as there was no meeting during the holidays.

Legislative and National Security
Mrs. Lucy Himens, legislative chairman of Antioch Unit, reports that the American Legion and Auxiliary will stress the need for promoting good legislation during the

Fox Lake Hills Phone Project Half Complete

Telephones for all residents of Fox Lake Hills will be a reality some time in February when the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. completes its cable project in the area.

The project is "about 50 per cent complete" now says Richard Hawkinson, manager of the Antioch office of the company.

UNSEASONAL AND prolonged cold weather in December caused a slight delay in cable splicing, Hawkinson said. Progress is being made fast enough now to place a completion date on the project.

When completed, the cable system will be large enough to accommodate all residents of the area now and should be able to handle most additional growth, Hawkinson said.

Goes to Hospital

Wilbur Turner, county animal warden, was taken to Downey Hospital Monday morning by the Antioch Rescue Squad after having been given emergency treatment for a lung congestion.

88th Congress which will convene in January.

The Auxiliary will stand behind the American Legion in supporting the legislation that is beneficial to our country and to the veterans of World Wars I and II and the Korean conflict.

The Legion is particularly interested in legislation that will protect the interests of the disabled veteran and his dependents, the veteran's widow and orphans; for it is through their sacrifice that this nation enjoys its present peace and security.

What Is The Largest "Woman's Club" In Illinois?

2,236,000 Women Who Save Trading Stamps
Are The Largest "Woman's Club" In Illinois.

Every day over 2,236,000 Illinois women make it a point to shop where they get trading stamps. This large group of smart, thrifty Illinois shoppers, with their common interest in trading stamps, can be thought of as a huge "woman's club" with membership in the state.

Of course this "club woman" gets wonderful things for her home and family through such favorites as S&H Green Stamps. Through her thrift and diligence she provides "extras" for her family. And although she may seldom think about it, her active saving is enormously good for business in our state.

Last year, for example, trading stamp companies purchased $35,531,000 worth of products from Illinois manufacturers. Making these things provided jobs for 3,501 Illinois people. S&H Redemption Stores, paying local rent and taxes, employ many more.

In the light of these facts it would seem that not only Illinois women, but everybody in the state can be thankful that the trading stamp is a part of our way of life.

This message is published as public information by THE SPERRY AND HUTCHINSON COMPANY, originator 63 years ago of S&H Green Stamps.

Scouts On Score Spree, Swamp Alden 118-72

Five Players Hit In Double Figures

Five players on the Antioch Scouts went on a wild scoring spree Monday night to score the highest total of the season in beating Alden 118-72.

The win gave Antioch solid fifth place in the fast McHenry County Basketball League and put them in a spot to move up another notch Sunday when they meet Dundee there. The Scouts already have beaten Dundee once this year.

LEADING ANTIOCH scorers again was Jack Pregonzer who tipped in 27 points on 12 field goals and three free throws. He was followed by Al Reckers with 20 points. Also scoring in double figures was Russ Connelly, 19, Frank Balistreri, 18, and Bill Parker with 13.

A good crowd in the Antioch High School gym saw the Scouts move to a 38-9 first quarter lead on the strength of Frank Balistreri's five buckets. Play slowed a bit in the second canto but still the Antiochs left the floor with a 59-26 edge.

Score by quarters:

1	2	3	4
Alden	9	26	42
Antioch	38	59	89

Antioch: Pregonzer, 12-3-27; Connelly, 7-5-19; Smejkal, 3-3-9; Parker, 6-1-13; Balistreri, 9-0-18; Poulos, 3-0-6; Reckers, 10-6-26; Hale, 0-0-0.

Speaker of House Will Set Record In 86th Congress

When the 86th Congress convenes on Jan. 7, Sam Rayburn will take up the gavel he has wielded for a record-breaking 15 years as speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Texas Democrat has held the post almost twice as long as any other speaker. But two Republicans gave the speakership the power that has caused some experts to rank it as the second most important office in the nation.

HENRY CLAY WAS the first to turn the office to political advantage. The speaker was simply an impartial moderator before Clay's election in 1811. But, according to The World Book Encyclopedia, the "Great Compromiser" used the office to argue so forcefully for the War of 1812 that it was called "Mr. Clay's War."

However, the speakership was transformed into a political tool almost as powerful as the presidency by Thomas Reed and "Uncle Joe" Cannon.

In 1890, Reed cracked down on the delaying tactics of minority groups by counting all members present as a quorum—a number sufficient to conduct business—even if they did not vote.

THE MOVE EARNED Reed the nickname "Czar," but the Supreme Court later upheld the rule.

Reed's methods were only the starting point for Joseph Cannon, who ruled the House like a dictator in the early 1900's.

Once, after putting a question for a voice vote, "Uncle Joe" declared, "The ayes make the most noise but the nays have it."

EVEN SOME members of Cannon's party rebelled. In 1910, on St. Patrick's Day, a coalition of Democrats and about 30 Republicans set out to strip Cannon of much of his power.

Because of the "St. Patrick's Day Revolution," Sam Rayburn has little of the formal authority which Reed and Cannon delegated to themselves. He still has the important "speaker's eye," or the power of recognizing members who wish to speak on the floor.

But most of his strength comes from an informal source—the party discipline he can maintain as leader of the majority in the House.

John Garner is the only man to have presided over both houses of congress on the same day. On March 4, 1933, "Cactus Jack" lighted a cigar as speaker of the House and finished it as vice president and presiding officer of the Senate. The World Book Encyclopedia's research department says he adjourned the House, walked across the Capitol to the Senate, and was immediately sworn in as vice president.

It Costs Money to Answer Your Letters

Maybe you'd rather have the $2. But this is a fair average of what it costs when an official of your bank, insurance company, department store or electric company dictates a letter in answer to your question, suggestion or gripe.

It's the secretary's time, not her boss's, that is the biggest single item of cost. She will average 25 to 30 minutes per letter, day in and day out. This is for taking down the dictation in shorthand, typing and correcting it, and maybe looking up a word in the dictionary. Her bill will run to 75 cents per letter.

Her boss, who barks the letter out in a few minutes, spends about 60 or 70 cents worth of his time. Stationery, typewriter ribbon and other materials, postage and mailing operations run the cost of the letter on up to the $2 figure.

Most Americans Want to Choose Their Own Doctor

More than three-fourths of the population of the United States want to choose their own doctor.

In addition, they want to assume all or part of the responsibility for paying their doctor bills.

THESE WERE among the findings in a survey conducted among a sampling of the adult general population for the American Medical Association.

The purpose of the study was to explore attitudes about the choice of physicians.

THE STUDY also showed that: Eighty-eight per cent of the population believe the right to see the same doctor regularly is of vital importance.

—Eighty-nine per cent believe that medical care in this country has improved over the past 20 years. Half of these persons ascribe the improvements to more and better research and advances in medical science.

Seventy-six per cent of the people said they wanted to choose their own physicians; 13 per cent saw no difference in whether they or someone else chooses their physician; 9 per cent preferred to have someone else choose, and 3 per cent had no opinion.

In answer to further questioning, 93 per cent of those surveyed felt that free choice would give them more confidence in the doctor; 84 per cent thought doctors would take a more personal interest in them, and 79 per cent believed they would have less trouble getting the doctor to make a home call.

Alaska Is Growing for Third Time in History

Attainment of statehood finds Alaska in a period of rapid growth. Since 1950 the population, which now totals 211,000, has increased almost two-thirds. The gain of 82,000 in this period is greater than the total number of residents in the Territory in any year prior to 1941.

ALASKA HAS experienced three periods of rapid upsurge in population since it was purchased from Russia in 1867. The first upsurge followed the discovery of gold in the 1890's. The second period began about 1940, spurred by the movement of military personnel into the Territory. The current upsurge began with a postwar low of about 99,000 population in 1946 and the rise reflects both military expansion and marked increase in civilian enterprises.

Wonderful World by Whoman

Pleasure-loving Romans appreciated the luxury of bathing in heated water. Unfortunately, the primitive plumbing frequently back-fired, and bathes were driven out by clouds of smoke.

American pioneer wagon trains heated water at night in small kettles suspended over a blazing central fire. The water served the entire community for cooking, bathing, or cleaning wounds, and had to be used sparingly.

Today, most American homes have virtually an endless supply of hot water readily available. Galvanized (zinc-protected) hot water tanks have guaranteed the supply of pure hot water to Americans for over 85 years.

World Can Support 6 Billion People in Next Century

The world should support a population of 6 billion people in the next century.

This is the calculation of G. V. Jacks, one of Europe's leading soil experts and director of Britain's chief center for agricultural research. However, Jacks pointed out in the Annual Report of the Smithsonian Institution, it depends on proper organization of the burgeoning society. Fertility of the soil must be maintained everywhere, a far more important factor than bringing new land into circulation.

THERE IS A curious relationship between distribution of population and agricultural productivity, Jacks emphasizes. Land fertility increases with the size of towns, not the number of persons engaged in farming.

At first, crop land does little more than supply food for the actual cultivators. Little or nothing is left to put back into the land out of which something is taken by each successive crop. Exhaustion comes soon and the people must find new land.

THEN A SURPLUS population flocks together to establish towns supported by industries. They require some of the farm products, and this need tends to make agriculture more stationary in the neighborhoods of towns. Actual money flows back to the farmers. They are able to buy fertilizer or apply more effective measures to prevent soil depletion and raise bigger crops.

This process is continuous, Jacks points out, as long as industrial centers continue to pour more and more back into the land. "Towns," he says, "increase a country's soil fertility by enabling farmers to afford to put more into the soil than they take out of it. Fertility cannot be increased merely by getting the soil to take in its own washing."

Last Treaty Signing, Grand Show for Whites, Redmen

To Englishman It Was Like a Constant New Year's Party

This is the sixth and final story in a series telling of the historic past of the lakeland area. It was compiled by Jacqueline Horton of Antioch who spent many hours in research and writing to tell the story to readers of the Antioch News.

BY JACQUELINE HORTON

The last treaty between the Indians and the whites which decided this land to the United States forever was quite a show as both parties gathered in Chicago.

Through the eyes and observations of the English writer Charles J. LaTrobe, who in his tour of this country was in Chicago in 1833 at the time of the last treaty, we have a graphic description of the scene:

"I LOVED TO stroll out toward sunset, across the river, and gaze upon the level horizon stretching to the northwest over the surface of the prairie dotted with innumerable objects far and near.

"Not far from the river lay many groups of tents constructed of coarse canvas, blankets and mats and surmounted by poles supporting meat, moccasins and rags. Their vicinity was always enlivened by various painted Indian figures dressed in the most gaudy attire. The interior of the huts generally displayed a confined area, perhaps covered with a few half-rotten mats or shavings upon which men, women and children and baggage were heaped pell-mell.

"FAR AND WIDE the grassy prairie teemed with figures—warriors mounted on foot, squaws and horses. Here a race between three or four Indian ponies, each carrying a double rider whooping and yelling like fiends. There a solitary horseman with a long spear, turbaned like an Arab, scouring along at full speed; groups of hobbled horses; Indian dogs and children or a grave conclave of gray chiefs seated on the grass in consultation.

"Next in rank to the officers and commissioners may be noticed storekeepers and merchants here, looking either to the influx of new settlers establishing themselves in the neighborhood, or those passing yet further to the westward, for custom or profit, not to forget the chance of extraordinary occasions like the present.

"Add to these a doctor or two, two or three lawyers, a land agent, and five or six hotel-keepers, these may be considered as stationary, and proprietors of the half a hundred clapboard houses around you.

"THEN FOR the birds of passage, exclusive of the Pottawatamies, and emigrants and land speculators as numerous as the sands. You will find horse dealers and horse stealers, rogues of every description, white, black, brown and red—half breeds, quarter breeds, and men of no breed at all... dealers in pigs, poultry and potatoes; men pursuing Indian claims, some for tracts of land... creditors of the tribes, or of particular Indians, who knew that they have no chance of getting their money if they do not get it from the government agents... sharpers of every degree; peddlers, grog-sellers, Indian agents and Indian traders of every description, and contractors to supply the Pottawatamies with food.

"THE LITTLE village was in an uproar from morning to night, and from night to morning; for during the hours of darkness, when the housed portion of the population of Chicago strove to obtain repose in the crowded plank edifices of the village, the Indians howled, sang, wept, yelled and whooped in their various encampments.

"IT IS A grievous thing that Government is not strong handed enough to put a stop to the shameful and scandalous sale of whiskey to those poor miserable wretches. But here lie casks of it for sale under the very eyes of the commissioners, met together for purposes which demand that sobriety should be maintained, were it only that no one should be able to lay at their door an accusation of unfair dealing, and of having taken advantage of the helpless Indian in a bargain, whereby the people of the United States were to be so greatly the gainers.

"Day after day passed. It was in vain that the signal gun from the fort gave notice of an assemblage of chiefs at the council fire. Reasons were always found for its delay.

One day an influential chief was not in the way; another, the sky looked cloudy, and the Indian never performs an important business except the sky be clear. At length, on Sept. 21, the Pottawatamies resolved to meet the commissioners. We were politely invited to be present.

"THE COUNCIL fire was lighted under a spacious open shed on the green meadow, on the opposite side of the river from that on which the fort stood, (near the north end of present Rush Street bridge). From the difficulty of getting all together, it was late in the afternoon when they assembled.

"There might be twenty or thirty chiefs present, seated at the lower

Scientists Working To Perfect Newer, Better Popcorn Type

Scientists have bred hybrid popcorns that expand as much as 35 times when popped. They have also found a type that makes little or no noise in chewing—an advantage in the theatre.

So far the silent popcorn, which is actually sorghum rather than corn, has been neglected. The difficulty is that it expands only about 17 times on popping. As popcorn is sold by bulk, pop sorghum has little commercial appeal.

IMPROVED POPCORN stems from research by the Department of Agriculture, Purdue and Cornell Universities, and other institutions. Studies have been spurred by the increasing consumption of popcorn in the past two decades.

Like other types of maize, popcorn is native to the Americas. Indians ate it long before the colonists arrived. An Indian popping method was to place the shelled corn on a flat stone laid over a fire pit.

WHITE SETTLERS took up popcorn, but it did not become important commercially until about 1890. The scarcity of sweets during World War II and the introduction of popcorn stands into theatres have promoted popcorn into an industry grossing hundreds of millions of dollars each year.

Corn pops as the result of suddenly released pressure produced by steam generated within the kernel, Agriculture Department scientists explain. The steam comes from moisture in the grain.

But scientists say they do not yet know the whole story. For example, it is not known for sure why the release of pressure does not come more gradually. Instead, pressure builds up in each cell, and the whole kernel suddenly explodes.

end of the enclosure, while the commissioners, interpreters, etc., were at the upper. The palaver was opened by the principal commissioner.

"The relative positions of the commissioners and the whites before the council fire, and that of the red children of the forest and prairie, were to me strikingly impressive. The glorious light of the setting sun streaming in under the low roof of the council house, fell full on the countenances of the former as they faced the west, while the pale light of the east hardly lighted up the dark and painted lineaments of the poor Indians, whose souls evidently claved to their birthright in that quarter.

"... THE BUSINESS of arranging the terms of an Indian treaty, whatever it might have been 200 years ago... while the Indian tribes had... the rude but vigorous intellectual character which distinguished many among them... now lies chiefly between the various traders, agents, creditors and half-breeds of the tribes, on whom custom and necessity have made the degraded chiefs dependent, and the government agents.

"When the former have seen matters so far arranged that self interests and various schemes and claims are likely to be fulfilled and allowed to their hearts' content... the silent acquiescence of the Indian follows of course; and till this is the case, the treaty can never be amicably effected. In fine, before we quitted Chicago, on the 25th, three or four days later, the treaty with the Pottawatamies was concluded."

Thus as so ably described by the English writer, was consummated the transfer by which Illinois ceased to be the land of the Indian. Their fathers entered here with strong and bloody hands; peaceably, yet by still stronger hands, have they gone the way of all their race.

More than a century has rolled by since these people of the prairie and of the forest took their farewell look at old Lake Michigan and crossed for the last time, in their westward journey, the plains and woods and streams of the land of the Illinois. Their numbers have since been supplanted by the greater population of the white man; the quiet woods and prairies are enlivened now with his innumerable homes and towns and interlaced with his devious network of paved roads.

The "little upstart village" of Chicago, now a mighty mountain range of skyscrapers, completely covers with implacable cement and asphalt and steel, the very land upon which the redman gathered in council to cede his birthrights.

"GET ALONG THERE little glider," shouts Paul Magiera one of the hired hands of Antioch's A&P Super Market as he prepares to lasso one of the stray grocery carts which his market must go out and find every night. You'll see the roundup every evening "out west" of the A&P market.

HERE'S ONE GLIDER that can't be counted as strayed or stolen for use in some customer's basement. Paul Magiera pulls an A&P cart back to the cart corral of the store as he completes his nightly chores.

My Neighbors

"Hmmm—now there's an item that 'cost-push-inflation' hasn't affected too severely!"

Real Roundup Every Night Here, Grocers Herd Strays

Out west of the A&P Supermarket in Antioch every evening, you can see a real roundup. Strays are spotted and herded back to the store corral by the extra hands employed by the store.

The same type of roundup is held each night also by the Jewel Food Store.

THE STRAYS are not the same as those the real western wranglers round-up in the fall. They are the food gliders unthinking shoppers leave all over Antioch after they have transferred their loads to cars.

Even though the stores try to keep close watch over stray carts with their nightly roundups, loss is pretty high in these parts, store managers say. The A&P alone has lost about 30 gliders this year and the Jewel store has lost about 10.

While some folks choose only to leave the carts in parking lots and on town streets as strays, others actually are "glider rustlers" and take the carts home. A favorite use is for laundry baskets in the basement says Dick Major, manager of the A&P Store.

COST OF THE carts runs between $33 and $38 a head, Major says. With the 30 he counts as lost on this year's inventory, that's a right healthy sum.

Although the Jewel Store here also has some losses in carts, it is not as high as the A&P's. Manager Ollie Lundell of the Jewel credits his store's larger parking lot with keeping the totals down. Actual damage through overloading and collisions with autos are a major factor in Jewel's loss. However, Jewel baskets also frequently are found in the town free parking lot on Broadway.

THE NIGHTLY roundup is a co-operative affair between the hired hands of the two stores. If an A&P man finds a Jewel-brand cart two blocks west on Orchard St., he herds it back to the corner of Broadway and Lake where a Jewel man can pick it up. Jewel often finds A&P strays south on Victoria St. and he, neighborly-like, brings it back with his own.

Townpeople and businessmen often join in the roundup also Major says. It is not uncommon for a merchant to guide one of the gliders back to the store after it has strayed too long in front of his place on Main St.

SUPERMARKETS in downtown locations are particularly vulnerable to stray and stolen carts, Major

Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up.—(1 Corinthians 13, 4.)

The real meaning of charity is a deep and true love of one's fellow men; this includes an abiding understanding of and sympathy for their faults and failings as we realize our own—and it means humility, and gratitude to God for the power and privilege of helping someone in spiritual, mental or physical need.

HERE'S A MAN who has many complaints. He's Frank Pennino, 1448 Bryn Mawr Ave., Chicago and a property owner in Venetian Village. Here he presents his 11 property descriptions to Mrs. Aurelia Brower, West Miltmore, who will check them against tax evaluations published in The Antioch News. Pennino was one of more than 700 who made complaints in the three-day signups in Venetian Village last weekend.

CITIZENS IN ACTION. Protesting their taxes in Venetian Village are these citizens. David C. Lewis, Sr., of Bernice Dr. in the town receives his statement of a "fair" tax valuation according to the description he has handed to Leonard Carter for verification. Lewis was one of the first to appear at the tax protest meetings in Venetian Village last Friday. More than 700 residents signed tax complaints at the meetings.

Cagers on Tourney Trail on Weekend

Half the high school basketball teams in this area will put away their hopes for conference titles this weekend as they go on the tournament trail.

Antioch High School's winless cagers will travel to Batavia and Lake Zurich where Mooseheart and Elia-Vernon also will gather for two days.

Grant High School will go to the Notre Dame High School Invitational Holiday Tourney at Niles to meet Warren, Immaculate Conception of Elmhurst and Notre Dame.

HOWEVER ON THE Wisconsin side of the border, single games next Tuesday will resume as school begins again for the preps.

In the Illinois tournaments, Antioch will attempt to gain its first victory in seven starts as it meets Batavia in the first contest Friday night. At 8:30, Elia-Vernon, also of the Northwest Suburban Conference, will meet Mooseheart. Winners and losers will play each other Saturday night for the four spots in the tourney as play moves to Lake Zurich.

AT NILES, Warren meets Notre Dame in the 7:30 p.m. game while Grant and Immaculate Conception go into battle at 9 p.m. Winners meet winners and losers meet losers in the Saturday night games which begin at 7:30 and 9 p.m. A trophy will be awarded to the first three finishers.

Wilmot High School also is having a bad year in the win-loss column with only a single victory against six defeats. Next Tuesday the Panthers swing back into action against Walworth on the Wilmot floor.

At Salem High School where the Falcons are having a successful season, Lake Geneva comes to battle. The Falcons now are in a third place tie in the Southeastern Conference and should take the smaller Southern Lakes Conference team.

DEATH NOTICES

FREDRICK J. MERTEN

Fredrick J. Merten, 61, of Bristol died Sunday, Dec. 28.

Merten was born Sept. 2, 1897. He was a member of St. Scholastica's Catholic Church and Holy Name Society. He married Jeanette Misinski May 16, 1936, at St. Alphonsus at New Munster, Wis.

Survivors are his widow, three sons, Eugene A., Richard J., and Robert S., and a daughter, Frances.

Mr. Merten had been in business in Bristol for 33 years and formerly was a farmer. In addition to his immediate family, brothers, Joseph A. of Bassett and Edgar J. of Eagle Lake and sisters Tillie Newman of Silver Lake, Julia Merten of Burlington and Theresa Koldewey of Burlington, and three grandchildren survive.

Funeral services will be Wednesday at 10 a.m. at St. Scholastica's Church and burial will be at St. Killians cemetery at Lake Geneva.

JOHN WELTER

John Welter, east shore Loon Lake, formerly of Berwyn, passed away December 25 at his home. Survivors are his widow Francis, a daughter Blanche Dvorak. Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Monday at Berwyn.

Tax Protests....

are concerned, Loomis said, but they will help any taxpayer who calls upon them. The Venetian Village association also is giving aid to the Fox Lake Hills group on the other side of the township.

THERE WORKERS will be assisting disgruntled taxpayers on Tuesday and Friday nights from 6 to 9 p.m. The forms then will be assembled and presented with a cover letter to Jasper Saturday morning.

The cover letter will summarize taxpayers' complaints about the equalizer tax factor by which all Lake Villa property was multiplied to place it on a valuation 55 per cent of market value. The letter also will cite several inequalities in the taxing including the case of five identical homes valued at five different levels.

Many residents of Fox Lake Hills, being new to the area, are not on the tax rolls and will be paying the higher taxes without recourse to protest.

Heading the drive in Fox Lake Hills is Robert Wagner, president, and Mrs. George Choulis, secretary of the Fox Lake Hills Assn.

The Antioch News and Lakes Theatre invite Edwin W. Olsen, Route 4, Box 526, Antioch, and one to attend Sunday, Monday or Tuesday's show at the Lakes Theatre.

A REFLECTION CONCERNING YOU

We like to pause for a few moments of reflection, then express our thoughts to you — our patrons, friends and fellow townspeople — as another year ends and a new year begins.

Certainly we have a great deal to thank all of you for. Not long ago we were a new business in Antioch and we were well accepted by those who have come to know us, our service and our products. We appreciate this acceptance greatly and sincerely. And we hope we can continue to serve you and bring you greater joys through the products we sell and services we offer. What we say here we really intend especially for each of you with whom we have become acquainted in Antioch, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Salem, Millburn, Trevor and throughout the lakes region.

We hope you have had an enriched holiday season, one that you will remember long, and may you have a good new year.

from all of us at FRANK'S TV

A BRIGHT NEW YEAR

We hope the New Year will indeed be a "bright one" for you. Serving you during the year now passing has been a pleasure. To all our friends we say Happy New Year!
